"The music in my heart I bore
Long after it was heard no more."

Lillian doesn't know the meaning of half way. Her musical talents make her always in demand for a song. "I Love Life" sings "Lily" with the dancing feet and the laughing eyes. She's one of the few girls who live just across the campus and still make it to class on time.

"Weary with toil, I waste me to bed,
The dear repose for limbs with travel tired."

Peggy has probably traveled more miles for her education than any other senior. With the President she shares an intense pride in her home town, Independence. Freckles, friendliness, and frankness star Peggy with her schoolmates, and these same qualities will be an asset in her future social work.

"Her voice was ever soft,
Gentle and low; an excellent thing in woman.

Caroline's quiet manner belies her constant activity both on and off campus. An ethereal, far away air, exceptionally balanced by a lively sense of humor, makes a captivating combination often expressed in her paintings. Caroline's exceptional artistic ability generously lends itself to school functions, which she enlivens with gay posters.

Catherine Ruth Borne

Higginsville, Missouri

A.B. in Art

Minors: Philosophy, English

"Then there was a star danced
And under that was I born."

Lively, loquacious, and light-hearted — that's Catherine Borne. When she enters a group she brings a breath of new life with her. Catherine has pledged her undying love to flour mills. And who wouldn't with such a profitable source of income as her painting of one brought in. Like her twin, Catherine's major interest is in her art.

Social work is her aim, and her determination will be one of her biggest assets in realizing it. Only her closest friends can call her "Peewee" and live.

Anna Marie Brian

Kansas City, Kansas

A.B. in Music Theory

Minors: Piano, English

"Her ivory hands on the ivory keys
Strayed in a fitful fantasy."

When this talented senior strikes the chords of the piano in a rendition of any of the masters' works, she is the envy of us all. During her leisure time she enjoys writing musical compositions, reading poetry, especially lyric, and keeping fit in sports. Sunshine is spread wherever she goes by her cheery smile and witty humor.

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall
And most divinely fair."

Miss Missouri of '47 promises to have a dazzling future if that ring on her third finger left hand has any significance. On campus Mary Jean has out-shined us all with her dramatic ability and her honey-toned singing. In spite of her fondness for bridge playing in 07, Mary Jean still finds time to mother every stray kitten that trespasses on the campus.

Geraldine Marie Carrigan

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: French, Philosophy

"Whate'er my fate is
'Tis my fate to write"

Witty, versatile and bubbling with initiative, Gerry, as she is affectionately called, has always found time to participate in campus activities. Although creative writing is her first love, Geraldine is ever ready to stage a marionette play for a group's entertainment. Globe-trotting to college conventions and other student sponsored projects have become second nature to her.

Doris Jean Frohoff

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: History, Philosophy

"These delights if thou canst give,
Mirth, with Thee I mean to live."

The parable of the five talents has nothing on "Dede." She shines in writing, art, music, dramatics and even scholastics. Parties are especially fun when she is along. She's always active and determined. Tomorrow may see her in the field of advertising. Two years as editor of the Teresian have left her comparatively unscathed.

"The smiles that win, the tints that glow
But tell of days in goodness spent."

Always naturally composed, Joan fits into any gathering. Her smile makes her everybody's friend and helper. She's always one of the first to see humor in a situation and laughs in her own soft, inimitable way. Conscientious, co-operative, likeable—that's Joan. Her agile fingers were formed to manipulate a microscope.

Rosemary Kelly

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: Education, Philosophy

"A dancing shape, an image gay
To haunt, to startle, and way lay."

Rosemary is always in a festive mood. Her actions as well as her "slanguage" are most expressive. No one could be easier to work with than "Kelly." Her natural flair for harmony shows in her taste in clothes. And what would a class be without her "bright" remarks? She can paint, too. We saw her magic touch in the "Cinderella" scenery.

"A mind content both

After some adventurous years in the Army Nurse Corps, Mary with her genuine charm easily adjusted herself to the college set. Of course, her Irish background had nothing to do with it! If ever anyone needs Mary, one can find her plugging away in the inner-sanctum of the library. Blue eyes, bright brogue, and charming wit spell Mary.

Patricia Moran

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: Philosophy, Speech

"Through her expressive eyes
Her soul distinctly speaks."

"The friend in need" characterizes Patricia's dependable nature. As a consistent student and loyal worker, she has given generously of herself and her car to St. Teresa's. Patricia has the long-time service record of her class, from freshman in the Academy to senior in the College. She hopes to put her dramatic ability to good use in the future as a speech teacher.

"Thy care is fixed, and zealously attends
To fill thy odorous lamp with deeds of light."

Quiet leadership belongs to Barbara. She sees the good side of everything. Her bravery extends to all fields—even the anatomy lab. Nothing is going to stop her, for she has the right values. In her unobtrusive way Barbara makes her power felt. And she has never passed by a teacher or a student without giving out a smile.

Joan Murphy

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: Philosophy, History

Her mirth the world requires
She bathed in smiles of glee.

Joan has always rated among the "big wheels" on the campus, and she intends to stay right up in that bracket after graduation. A Christmas engagement ring means wedding bells for "Jody" this June. Half sense and half nonsense ripple through Joan's conversation, and even though the pun is the lowest form of humor, it has placed Joan on top.

A.B. in Sociology

Minors: Philosophy, Education

And, as I wake, sweet music breathes
Above, about, or underneath.

The black and ivory of any piano is completely under the control of this talented musician. Music to her is more than notes on the page, and she can take them and make them tell you something. Chopin and jazz are both under her spell. Always casual, Jo Ann is ever eager to take time out for a talk. She has definite likes and ideas but she doesn't force them on others. The future will see her behind a teacher's desk where she will have plenty of opportunity to use the techniques she has learned from taking care of her one brother and five sisters.

Mary Catherine O'Donnell

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in English

Minors: Philosophy, French

Give me a look, give me a face
That makes simplicity a grace.

Catherine's Irish humor shines in her broad and friendly smile. She's one of the unselfish ones who give their Sundays to teaching Catechism to children in public schools. Her eight years at St. Teresa's have made her a loyal student and one to cherish our traditions. Her friends recognize her simplicity, honesty and dependability.

Her eyes as stars of Twlight fair;
Like Twilight's, too, her dusky hair.

Whether Ting boasts of her Irish wit and ancestry or not it makes little difference, for she is still the ever popular party girl. Asked what her hobbies are, Ting replied that she loved to go downtown to shop and that she enjoyed making some of her own sport clothes.

Bobby Jeanne Schmidt

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in Philosophy

Minors: Sociology, English

With courage and success you the bold work begin
Your cradle has not idle been.

Bobby is an expert at organizing anything from her own time and activities to an NFCCS Regional Congress. She knows what being a real student means and lives up to it. Serving a real need and getting the job done is more important than any personal sacrifice. Her clear thinking and ability to see the whole situation have been put to use many times during her four years at CST. Bobby is happy and composed even under fire. She'll leave a deep footprint on the sands.

Mary Elizabeth Schutte

Fair quiet, have I found thee here,
And innocence, thy sister dear!

Being a scholar is business with Mary Elizabeth. She does things slowly and well. But music is her real love. Her talent has been proven many times in her solos at school activities. At the piano, too, she shows her musical mastery. A night at the Music Hall is always a happy occasion for her. "Schutte" takes things seriously.

Gloria Sutter

Kansas City, Missouri

A.B. in Mathematics

Minors: Philosophy, Speech

The light of love, the purity of grace
The mind, the music breathing from her face.

Gloria can very appropriately be called the well-rounded college graduate. Always ranking high scholastically, she has made use of her talents. Dramatic work is one of Gloria's specialties. In her less serious days as an underclassman, she played a sparkling game of basketball and volleyball. Because Gloria enjoys sewing for herself, her wardrobe is constantly being added to.

Whate'er she did was done with so much ease
In her alone was natural to please.

Ever a gracious hostess and always friendly, Mary Lou has the charming habit of being able to "win friends and influence people." During her sophomore year Mary Lou attended UCLA, but she was glad to rejoin us as an upperclassman. Whenever we need a campaign manager to bring our sales over the top, Mary Lou is always willing to assume the responsibility. Her spontaneity even follows through to her work in the League of Women Voters. After graduation, for a while at least, Mary Lou hopes to find her place in the teaching profession.

Windmoor

More than brick and stone
And structure firm
Rooted deep in earth;

Calm, serene, in snow
And wind and ice
Brave against the worst;

Peace within and warmth
And love and life
Fed by a living spark;

And we who walk
Into the night
Are set apart:

The light within
Will cast its glow
And mark us
As her own.

Graduate Nurses

Elizabeth Becker
Scio, Oregon

Dorothy Anne Bolenbaugh
Kansas City, Missouri

The purpose of the Department of Nursing of the College of St. Teresa is to provide young women with a program which will lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing; equipping them with full professional training in the areas of private, institutional, and public health nursing; providing them with a background of intellectual and cultural interests for the enrichment of their own and others' lives; and developing them socially and spiritually so that they may achieve happiness in this world and Eternal Life in the next.

The Nursing Curriculum provides for four calendar years of combined study and professional experience. With the successful completion of this program, the student will have merited the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing and will have satisfied the requirements of the Missouri Nurse Practice Act. The studies of the first two years will be conducted on the campus of the College of St. Teresa; those of the last two years at St. Joseph Hospital and other affiliated institutions.

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a voluntary organization, offers CST-ers the opportunity to become more like the ideal of every Catholic woman, our Blessed Mother, as well as to practice Catholic action. Affiliated with the Prima Primaria in Rome, the Sodality offers the places of honor in the May Day ceremonies only to those who have diligently followed the motto, "To Jesus through Mary" in the Sodality.

At a typical meeting the committee chairmen report their different activities and projects. The Eucharistic Committee takes care of special feasts and devotion to the Holy Eucharist. Our Lady's Committee promotes devotion to Mary. A clearing-house for all needs is the Publicity Committee. The moderator is Sister Rose Agnes.

Don't let those beguiling expressions fool you! Joan Murphy, Bobby Jeanne Schmidt, and Jean Carrigan are really hard at work making plans for the Central Mid-West Regional Spring Congress of the NFCCS. The convention was held here on May 13.14. St. Teresa's was hostess to eleven member colleges and universities in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado.

The NFCCS is the co-ordinating factor uniting most of our campus groups with similar organizations on other campuses throughout the entire United States

Student Relief Campaign

For the second year, the NFCCS sponsored as its primary object the Student Relief Campaign with the national goal of $500,000 for 1948-49. Participating in the campaign were eleven member colleges of the NFCCS and five other schools, from a five-state area. The Regional profit came from the raffling of a 1949 Studebaker Champion at an all-region dance on May 14, terminating a year of individual campus activities. The Regional chairmanship was held by Dorothy McKinley. Joan Nikolai was Regional Press Director. Betty Gilmore and Nan Gilmore directed CST activities.

The Press Club

Presiding: Geraldine Carrigan (Regional chairman); front row: Mary Ann Dwyer, Gloria Sutter, Doris Jean Frohoff, Patricia Moran, Joan Murphy, Catherine Borne; second row: Jean Carrigan, Alice Fick, Barbara Riley, Aileen Shine, Mary Agnes Lynch, Bobby Jeanne Schmidt, Barbara Schmid; third row: Patricia Miller, Betty Detten, Joan Rush, Dorothy Brandt, Evelyn Kipping, Jeanette Wagner, Patricia Jansen, Patricia Maggard.

Press Clubing this year has solved the what-to-do-with-my-time-problem for over thirty girls. Besides the usual activities this has meant playing host to two Regional Press Meetings. (CST holds the Commission for the NFCCS Central Mid-West Region.) The Talent Show, Miss Windmoor Contest, and Mardi Gras Carnival are other highlights. The purpose of the Press Club and of the Regional Com mission is to help stimulate student responsibility and awareness through the medium of the press.

The official voice of the CST student body is its monthly publication The Teresian. Besides accurate reporting of collegiate activities, it offers many topics for discussion with its vital editorial policy and its student polls. Promotion of student responsibility and awareness has been the main theme of The Teresian this year.

Best wishes Barbara, Remember me in College. May God be with you. Joanne Rent

Seated: Jean Carrigan, Catherine Borne (editor), Sister Marcella Marie (faculty adviser). Standing: Barbara Riley, Dorothy Brandt, Mary Catherine O'Donnell, Caroline Borne.

Each semester Teresians collaborate in the creative writing field to publish The Golden Echo, a literary journal. Short stories, poems, essays, book reviews, plays, and illustrations come forth from its pages to boast the hopes of its young writers and to encourage them to enter the field of Catholic journalism.

Dramatic ability, artistic ability, or just plain willingness to help behind stage is a requirement for all members of the Dramatic Club. Under the direction of its moderator, Sister M. Felice, this lively group, mid greasepaint, hammers, light bulbs, worn-out scripts, and other such theatrical properties have been responsible for the presentation of the fall production Cinderella, together with many short skits and other works of dramatic art throughout the year.

Even though they may not converse in Spanish too fluently, these members of the Spanish Club have a lively interest in our neighbors South of the Border. At the club's regular monthly meetings, the girls eagerly learn about the history, inhabitants, customs, and scenic background of the South American countries through the medium of oral reports, movies, and discussions.

The monthly meetings are devoted to some scientific subject of current interest. This is also an NFCCS commission. Sister Rose Daniel is Faculty Adviser.

The League of Women Voters

Girls earnestly interested in civic affairs have organized under the name of The League of Women Voters in affiliation with girls from other colleges here in the city. At regular meetings, the members discuss current problems of civic government, viewing in a practical way what they learn by visiting some of the city's institutions.

The CSMC

These home front missionaries of the CSMC employ a balanced program of prayer, study and sacrifice. The group fulfills its threefold aim by sponsoring a monthly Holy Hour, conducting literature campaigns, and meeting every month to plan new activities. Each Wednesday of the school year is fund collecting day. A part of the fund has been donated toward the expenses for handmade altar cards for a mission church.

Barbara Mullin, President; Mary Elizabeth Schutte, Secretary-Treasurer.

Peggy Atha, Marjorie Nash, Mary Elizabeth Jelicic, Mary Agnes Lynch, Dorothy Brandt, Anna Marie Brian, Jeanette Wagner.

The Barn Dance

Time out from reels and "swing your partner." CST's first barn dance, sponsored by the "T Girls" of the Athletic Association, had plenty of atmosphere from bales of hay to wild western music.

The Press Club Talent Show

Cheers!

The Turkey Trot

The newest formals, the biggest orchids, and the gayest streamer made the Thanksgiving dance one of the highlights of last fall.

Drama Department Presents Cinderella

Patricia Moran, Mary Jo Power, Joelle Fasenmyer, Rita Olson, Joan Leone, Lenore Verde, Doris Jean Frohoff, Jean Wigert, Mary Jean Burke, Patricia Straub, Patricia Maggard, Gloria Sutter, Marie Reintjes, Mary Margaret Straub.

Far away places and strange happenings became real as the cast of "Cinderella" unfolded the fairy tale to a delighted audience. Doris Jean Frohoff as the poor and dejected Cinderella became the enchanted and beautiful princess, and captured the heart of the prince in spite of her mean step-mother and sisters. Her cat "Ashes" and the court jester were invaluable aids to her and unforgettable in their comic performances.

The Sodality Christmas Party

Christmas Baskets

Some happy Sodalists help Santa with his Christmas Eve calls.

Boarder's Christmas Formal

Last night before the holidays is time for celebrating together. Boarders enjoy the traditional dinner and candle procession.

Christmas Dance

The Christmas season just naturally calls to mind formal affairs, and who could forget ours: the twinkling city lights from the Sky-Hy Roof, danceable melodies of Jim Lenge's band, swishing skirts, fragrant corsages, and that wonderful deep-down warmth of happiness synonymous with the Christmas spirit!

Retreat

Retreat: our spiritual re-dedication of self of God by putting aside material thoughts and conversations for the solemn silence of meditation. Three days between semesters found cap-and-gowned students attending morning Mass and conferences conducted through the day by Father Edward Mangan, C.Ss.R.

Second Semester Begins

Students oblivious of any conflicts, line up blithely before Dean's office for final program check-up . . . only to begin all over the second day of registration.

Les Copley's orchestra . . . cokes and cakes . . . paper hearts and balloons: memories of February 14!

Students of the Mission Club spend one hour a month at the Perpetual Adoration Chapel.

Father-Daughter Banquet

Our liveliest date of the year! February 23, 1949, saw a large number of Teresians in formal attire arrive at the Tea House by the Side of the Road for dinner escorted by their men of the hour, their dads. Thence, fortified by fried chicken under their belts and their daughters on their arms, the fathers nosed family autos in the direction of Blue Hills Barbecue to finish out the evening (and we do mean finish!) dancing, singing, staging impromptu floor shows, and entering a jitterbug contest—all of which provided both dad and date with those morning-after blues but lots of happy memories for years to come.

"Miss Windmoor" Coronation
